

An Introduction to...

Human Behavior 101

Helping you understand and deal with the human race.

Executive Coach Kim Giles will teach your group how to eliminate office drama, lessen annoying behavior, manage difficult people and gain clarity about the human race. She is both wildly entertaining and extremely educational.

This highly rated program will help you:

- Gain clarity and see situations accurately.
- Understand your own behavior.
- Understand human behavior in a whole new way that changes everything.
- Gain confidence and handle difficult conversations with ease.
- Handle difficult and annoying people with love and strength.
- Eliminate office drama and politics once and for all.
- Improve your relationship and communication skills.

Life Coach Kim Giles is a professional speaker, author and executive coach. She was named one of the top twenty advice gurus in the country by Good Morning America in 2010. She has appeared on local and national TV and radio sharing her unique insights about life and relationships. This program brings together her most popular (and life changing) lessons on life and people.

Get ready to laugh and learn.

“This presentation is the most fun you can have becoming a better person.”

801-231-0107 coachkingiles@gmail.com